NAME EPPA HUNTON TO SUCCEED WHITE

Eppa Hunton, jr., succeeds the late William H. White as president of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company. He was the choice of the board of directors over all other nominees at the election held in New York yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Norman Call, vice-president, was the choice of Governor Davis, and his candidacy was urged by business organizations and other influential forces.

The directors, however, settled upon the distinguished Virginia lawyer, who is general counsel of the road and who has figured prominently in the business, political and social life of Richmond and Virginia for many years. His candidacy also was supported by many prominent citizens of the State.

MASONIC VISITATION

Centennial Lodge of D. C., Guest of Andrew Jackson Lodge

Afterward refreshments were served by the ladies of Martha Washington Chapter No. 42, Eastern Star.

'BOLSHEVIST PLOT, EXPLOSION IN AUTO,' SAYS MILLIONAIRE

New York, Sept. 17.—John Markle, muti-millionaire independent coal operator, who was prominent in the negotiations with President Roosevelt over the 1902 coal strike, said that today's explosion was in the wrecked motor car. Markel, who lives at the Hotel Plaza, talked in St. Vincent's Hospital. He had gone there with his mining engineer, A. B. Jessup, both having been cut by glass in the Morgan office. He said:

"Mr. Jessup and I were in Mr. Morgan's private office talking with Junius Spencer Morgan and Mr. Joyce, one of the partners of the house, when the explosion occurred. After the roar of the explosion, glass fell in a shower over all of those in the office and outside clerks were toppled from their seats to the floor. All of them were cut by glass or otherwise hurt.

"Mr. Morgan did not seem to be hurt, but Mr. Joyce (father of William Joyce, who was killed), was badly cut.

"Both Mr. Jessup and I are technical men and we say positively that the center of the explosion was an automobile in front of the office on the Wall street side. We rushed to the window immediately after the explosion and from our experience with explosives, we saw that the force of the explosion had radicated from the spot where the motor car had stood. I don't know what else went up, but the origin of the blow-up was the automobile. And there is no question in my mind that it was the work of Bolshevists."

TIME BOMB CAUSED WALL STREET BLAST

Total Dead to Noon Today Was Thirty-Four

OVER 200 ARE INJURED

Radicals Blaimed For Outrage—Authorities Seek Perpetriators of Dastardly Crime.

New York, Sept. 17.—The blast in Wall street at noon yesterday was caused by an infernal machine. This was established today by the authorities of that city who are now energetically endeavoring to round up the perpetrators of the most horrible and infamous crime in the history of the country.

Revised figures up to noon today show that thirty-four person are dead from the explosion and more than 200 injured and many of the injured are in a serious condition and may die.

Mayor Hylan has offered a reward of $10,000 for the apprehension and conviction of the parties guilty of the outrage.

Castiron slugs made from, window sash weights, which had been broken up, were volleyed in all directions, one of them crashing through the skylight of the 45-story Equitable Building. These slugs, together with the fact that the explosion took place at the very center of the financial world and at 12.01 precisely, form the basis of the generally accepted theory that an infernal machine, and not an accident, caused the explosion.

Of the wagon, said by witnesses to have been painted red, of the kind used by grocers fo rdeliveries, which was the engine of destruction, only a few fragments were to be found. Drawn by a plodding horse, it was seen coming up Wall Street from the direction of the East river a few minutes before 12 o'clock. Some of those who saw it declared that it bore the name of a manufacturer of explosives

It stopped at the curb just about the dividing line between the Assay Office, where $900,000,000 in gold bullion is stored, and the Subtreasury vaults, which hold a billion more. Directly across Wall street is the $4,000,000 structure which houses the Morgan firm, where in an office on the upper floor members of the firm had just seated themselves with a representative of the coal operators to discuss the strike in the anthracite fields

Half a block to the south, the riotous curb market was surging and shouting in the roped spaces of Broad street. The bell of Trinity sounded noon and like an echo came the bell which marks that hour in the curb market.

While the latter still was chiming, the explosion came. Buildings rocked at the shock. A sheet of flame leaped up that licked through windows shivered by the detonation. Then came a mushroom of smoke, the convolutions of its under surface tinged with sulphurous yellow. For a moment the smoke canopy hung solidly above the financial district. Then it drifted away.

In the streets below all motion was paralyzed for the moment. Three bodies lay on the steps of J. P. Morgan and Co., Other huddled forms were strewn on both side of Wall street. Bits of smouldering cloth which an instant before had formed part of the clothing of men and women were blowing along the sidewalks.

An upturned automobile which had stood at the curb near the red wagon with two women in it was blazing furiously on the sidewalk. From all sides came the crash and tinkle of falling glass. In a dozen office buildings persons who had been near the windows were beating out flames in their clothing and striving to stanch the wounds glass shards had made.

Others, some of them powerful financiers, were marvelling to discover that they had escaped scatheless, although their desks were littered with broken glass, their window sills scarred by slugs and the glass in the telephone booth in which they happened to be lay in fragments at their feet.

Although timed to explode at the moment when the activities of the world of finance are at their height and placed at the very center of that world, the infernal machine failed to destroy a single financier. One employe in the Morgan office was killed. Junius Spencer Morgan, son of the head of the firm, suffered a cut on the hand. Robert Bacon, who was with him in conference, was slightly hurt.

The victims were chance by-passers men and women of the more ordinary walks of life, whose business, pleasure or fate had called them at that hour to that spot.

The walls of the new Assay Office and of the Morgan building showed scars where slugs had struck. Window sills and cornices had been chipped by the missiles. All the windows in the Assay Office were shattered and the steel casements in which the panes were set were bent inward.

Not a sound pane of glass remained in the Morgan building. Even the heavy plate glass panels in the doors were broken. Screens of copper mesh which were set inside the windows, were bent and twisted, but had fulfilled their mission of protecting those within. Fragments of the glass dome above the main office lay on the floor and one of these, or some similar bits of falling debric, is believed to be responsible for the single death occurring there. The streets were covered with broken glass, some of it finely powdered, like sugar.

The heroic statue of Washington on the steps of the subtreasury was not so much as scratched by the explosion and stood firmly with hand outstretched in a quelling gesture.

Those who merely had been thrown to the ground by the shock set about rescue work as soon as they regained their feet. White clad surgeons soon were at their elbows, for the clangor of arriving ambulances and fire apparatus filled the air while glass still was falling. Policemen were sent to the scene in force and established lines two blocks from the corner where the explosion occurred. Within 40 minutes of the blast army trucks came lumbering up Broad street from South Ferry and 50 men of Company M, Twenty-second Infantry, clambered out and fell in line with fixed bayonets each man with 100 rounds of ball cartridges in his pouches.

They had been summoned because of the proximity of the Assay office and the SubTreasury and were reinforced by another company later. For a time a squad armed with light Browning automatics stood guard on the steps of the Sub-Treasury. It was decided within two hours, however, that the protection afforded by the police was ample and the soldiers were withdrawn.

Alexandria Council No. 5, O. F. A., Celebrates Anniversary.

Alexandria Council No. 5, Order Fraternal Americans, held an interesting meeting last evening in Potomac Hall, No. Columbus street. Considerable routine business was transacted. An application for membership was received and reports made touching the District meetings now being held in this and other sections of the State. A number of addresses were made touching on the Council's "birthday" as today is the thirtieth anniversary of the institution of Alexandria Council in this city. The Council was instituted Sept. 17, 1890 in Sarepta Hall. The Council from its organization has made remarkable progress and today enjoys a large membership, having upon its rolls some of the leading and progressive citizens of our city. The Council is in a most healthy condition, financially and stands high in the ranks of the councils of this State. The local council is now arranging to take a large delegation to Fairfax Courthouse early in October to attend the District meeting. The council at that place has over 200 members and they are planning for the entertainment of visitors from this city and other sections of Fairfax County where Councils of the Order are located.

London, Sept. 17.—"My brother is very exhausted but there has been no great change in his condition," Miss Annie MacSwiney announced when she emerged from a visit with him in Brixton prison yesterday evening.

Repair Men Work Under Great Light Batteries

New York, Sept. 17.—All night the neighborhood of Broad and Wall streets was as bright as at noonday, as great batteries of searchlights from all possible points of advantage played upon the Morgan building, the subtreasury, the assay office, the Banker's Trust Building, the Stock Exchange, the sidewalks and streets.

There was never-ceasing racket as hundreds of workmen toiled to put glass into windows from which it had been blown, or, where glass could not be obtained quickly enough, to board up the open casements. Within the affected buildings themselves lights blazed and men moved about effecting what repairs were possible.

To the noise of hammering and saws was added a continual clink of glass as street cleaners and employes of the buildings swept up fragments which had fallen into the open, or janitors brought down big barrow loads which had dropped within the offices.

The Wall street section, after 7 or 8 o'clock at night, is usually completely deserted. But many thousands crowded the neighborhood during the early hours of th night, while the subway stations discharged crowds of persons who had journeyed to the district to get a look at the devastation. But few were permitted to approach closely to the corner whre the explosion occurred. The police maintained a cordon two blocks away from Broad and Wall streets and beyond this the ordinary persons was not allowed to step.

DANCE NEXT FRIDAY

Alexandria Post No. 24, American Legion, will give a subscription dance next Friday evening, September 24, in the Elk's Home, the first of the series for the season.

Members of the woman's auxiliary will act as chaperons and music will be by McWilliam's orchestra.

$85,000 in Bonds, 2,574 Shares Of Stock Missing in Explosion

New York, Sept. 17.—The New York stock and curb exchange will be opened for business tomorrow morning at the usual time, it was officially announced tonight. Officials of the stock exchange declared that bonds valued at $85,000 and 2,574 shares of stock are missing as a result of the explosion. The securities were in the hands of messengers employed by various brokerage houses.

Nicholas DeJohn, 23 years old, who was employed by a Broad street brokerage firm, was carrying a roll of bonds and securities, aggregating $15,000, in Wall street when the explosion occurred. He was thrown on his back and received an ugly wound in the stomach. The bonds fell to the ground, but he had the presence of mind to seize them and stuff them in his pocket, where they were found after he was taken to the hospital.

REHEARSAL TONIGHT

The members of the Old Dominion Boat Club are working to make the performance of "Oh, Oh, Cindy" a success. This musical extravaganza will be presented, under the auspices of the boat club, in the opera house on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 6th, 7th and 8th, by local talent, and Miss Louise E. Close, director for the John B. Rogers Producing company, is holding rehearsals on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of each week for the the principals and chorus groups, and each afternoon for the children.

The rehearsal this evening will be held at the Chamber of Commerce, at 7 o'clock for the show and chorus girls, and at 8 o'clock for the principals. Those who helped to make "Katcha-Koo" such a wonderful success are urged to be present at this meeting as several important parts are yet to be filled. Though the majority of them have responded, the cooperation of all is needed to put this play on in a professional manner.

ELUDES CAPTURE.

Search Continues For George Hockman, Wanted For Sutherland Murder.

The authorities of Prince William county are still searching for George Hockman, charged by them with the shooting and killing of Walter Sutherland which took place at Quantico Creek on Hockman's houseboat according to the verdict of the coroner's jury. The police here think that Hockman is in this neighborhood, and are expecting to apprehend him.

Evidence produced before the jury was to the effect that Sutherland probably was slain last Saturday. It was pointed out by the authorities that marks and bruises on the body and face of Sutherland indicated a struggle before the murder.

That the shooting was the culmination of a row over the proceeds of the sale of liquor alleged to have been manufactured aboard the house boat of Hockman is the opinion of Commonwealth's attorney, Thomas H. Lion of Manassas, Prince William county, from information he has obtained regarding the affair.

The houseboat belonging to Hockman has been destroyed by fire and the authorities of Prince William report that the last seen of Hockman was aboard a launch coming up the river.

The police here are of the opinion that Hockman probably made his way to the Maryland side of the river.

COOKE- REINERS NUPTIALS

The marriage of Miss Ada Elizabeth Cooke to Mr. Alvin Reiners took place at Epiphany Church on September 8, at 6.30 p. m., the Rev. Robert Evans Browning officiating. The bride was attired in dark blue silk with hat to match, and wore a corsage bouquet of pink brides roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother 1304 L. St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Reiners have returned from a wedding trip and are now at home at 1304 L. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. The bride is a granddaughter of the late Mrs. Annie Roberta Cooke and a niece of Miss Carrie Roberta Cooke of this city.

FOREIGNERS TO GET SHIPS.

Washington, Sept. 17.—The American Shipbuilding Company has been authorized by the Shipping Board to sell 10 steel steamers, of 3,700 deadweight tons each, for transfer to foreign registry. This is the first authority for the sale to foreign account of American ships granted by the board under the terms of the new Merchant Marine act.

The board's announcement today said the American company has been unable to interest steamship companies in this country in the purchase of the craft, and consequently had negotiated for their sale aboard. Built on the Great Lakes for the American company's account, the steamers will be transferred to French, British, Norwegian, Swedish Danish, Belgian, Spanish and Italian registry.

The board said it had been informed that the company would receive about $662,700 each for the ships, or about $171 per deadweight ton.

SEEK FILM SUPREMACY.

U. S. Counsul Reports Unusual Activities Among British Movie Makers.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Strenuous efforts are being put forth in Great Britain to overcome the lead the United States has maintained in the production of motion picture films according to a report today from Consul Calvin M. Hitch, at Nottingham, England, to the Department of Commerce.

During the past twelve months, several large producing companies have been organized in England, the Consul said, and while little has been done as yet in the actual production of films there is every indication, Mr. Hitch added, that the industry will continue to grow. About eighty per cent of the films shown in Great Britain are produced in the United States, the Consul reported.

Picked Men Guard Morgan Home, Cathedrals and Officials' Houses

New York, Sept. 17.—Thirty detectives from the West Thirtieth street station, all picked men, were sent out tonight to maintain a strict surveillance over the Morgan home at Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh street on Madison avenue. The detectives stationed themselves in doorways, on housetops and at other points of vantage in the vicinity of the home. They had orders to stop every person and automobile that passed, which gave them the slightest reason for suspicion.

Batteries of searchlights were scattered through the financial district last night and kept the place as light as day. Extra guards were on duty around the city hall, the county court house, St. Patrick's Cathedral, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and the homes of prominent officials and well-known wealthy men.

Will Accept Reasonable Reservations, Says Cox.

Reno, Nev., Sept. 17.—Assertions that he would make "any reasonable concession" to secure American membership in the League of Nations were made by Gov. James M. Cox, Democratic Presidential candidate, here tonight at the close of his Nevada campaign.

In his statement, a telegram to Prof. Irving Fisher, of Yale University, Governor Cox said that the Democratic platform opposed only reservations of nullification. The Governor announced that he would "endeavor to meet all reasonable desires for proper reservations which are offered in sincerity."

Cardinal Re-Elected As Catholic Charities Head

Washington, Sept. 17.—James Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, was today re-elected honorary president of the National Conference of Catholic Charities, and Robert Biggs, also of Baltimore, was named as a member of the executive committee of the organization.

Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Shahan, rector of the Catholic University, was re-elected president of the conference at the concluding session.

Picric Acid or T. N. T. Used, Not Dynamite, Say Two Experts.

New York, Sept. 17.—Le and M. Summers, who, prior to the United States' entry into the world war, was chief technical expert for J. P. Morgan & Co., having had charge of all allied supplies, and later chief technical expert of the war industries board, and Charles H. McDowell, president of the Armour Fertilizer Works, of Chicago, were standing nearby when the exposion took place.

Both men, Summers and McDowell, who also was a member of the war industries board, in charge of the chemical section, agree that T. N. T. or picric acid, two of the highest explosives known, were used in the attempt to blow up the buildings.

"These two explosives," said Mr. McDowell, "cannot be tipped off by a percussion cap. T. N. T. and picric are waxlike substances, resembling laundry soap. I also noticed that the color of the smoke after the explosion had taken place was black, which further vertifies my statement that either T. N. T. or picric acid was used."

"I'm sure" Mr. Summers said, "that T. N. T. or picric acid powder was used. It had the power of a 6-inch cannon. It is extremely improbable that dynamite was used.

Steady Increase in Number of Women to Pay Poll Taxes

The number of women who are paying their capitation taxes is steadily increasing. City treasurer T. W. Robinson at noon today reported that a total of 207 women had paid the required tax of $1.50 up to that hour. As heretofore stated it is expected that several hundred others will pay between now and October 2. Many of the women already have registered.

Motorman Sherman Gives Facts In Case

Had Suffered From Stomach Trouble Ten Years and Was About to Give up When He Got Tanlac.

"Tanlac has done the work for me that nothing else could," declared Leizerin S. Sherman, of 728 1-2 Oak Hill, Youngstown, Ohio.

"For ten years," said Mr. Sherman "I suffered with my nerves and a bad case of stomach trouble. My appetite was very poor and what little I did eat soured and the pain was so awful that it almost doubled me up. I had weak spells and at times became dizzy. I could hardly sleep at night and I felt miserable that I st time from my run all along. I tried all sorts of medicines, but kept going down hill until I thought I would have to quit work entirely.

"My first bottle of Tanlac did me so much good that I just kept on taking it until now I am a well man. My appetite is fine. I am picking up in weight and there never was a time that my stomach was in better shape. I don't know what it is to be nervous any more and I sleep sound all night long. My wife was also in a nervous, run-down condition, and after taking several bottles, she is now enjoying the best of health and feeling fine again."

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield, jr., and Gibson's Drug Store.

Keep Your Blood Pure Nature Will Do the Rest

Did you know that ninety per cent of all human ailments depend upon the condition of your blood?

Nature gives her warnings in various unmistakable ways, so that when the appetite fails, and you become weak and listless and a general run-down condition manifests itself, take possession of the whole body, it is then unhealthy signs and impurities will steadily accumulate until your general health will be seriously affected. You should recognize the importance, therefore, of very promptly cleansing out the system, and keeping the blood supply pure and robust.

"RAISIN POT" UNCOVERED, RATS HILARIOUSLY DRUNK

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 16.—Warning: "Cover the raisin pot tonight!" Raisins make rats drunk. A local baker forgot to put the lid on the raisin pot last night. The rats, fat, gray-backed rats, jumped in and gorged on raisins. Then glory! At least 100 of the sharp nosed Chinese delights hiccoughed and staggered into the front window and went squeaking bibulously over and around bread and pastry. A crowd collected and caused the police to take an interest, shortly after which the episode of the raisin rat jag ended.

Suffragist Steals March On Connecticut Legislature

Washington, Sept. 16.—Miss Cath[illegible] erine Flanagan, one of the [illegible] ganizers of the Congressional Union [illegible] defiance of Governor's message that it would not pass any measure comb, of Connecticut, when she secured a certified copy of the ratification resolution adopted by the Connecticut Legislature yesterday, brought it to Washington and deposited it with Secretary of State Colby. Early today the suffrage [illegible] was put in the mail and gone the Governor [illegible]

Governor Holcomb, from [illegible] reported from Hartford today, withheld certification to the Secretary of State, because he doubted the legality of the ratification. The Legislature in defiance of the Governor's message that it would not pass any measure save those which it had been specifically told to take up, put through a ratification resolution. The Governor was preparing to send a message on suffrage next week. Miss Flanagan is a well-known Connecticut militant, who picketed the White House, was arrested, tried and sent to the District of Columbia workhouse at Occoquan for thirty days. She has auburn hair, gray blue eyes and volunteered for suffrage because she does not like a dull time. She has been in suffrage campaigns in fifteen different States and was one of the leaders of the Tennessee contest.

Corby Bread Is the Fundamental of Health

A Serious Condition

Dr. Joseph A. Murphy, supervising medical inspector of the Public Schools, believes, as reported in The Washington Star of last Saturday, that nearly one-third of the children in the graded public schools are TEN PER CENT, OR MORE, undernourished, and he is recommending that the co-operation of the parents should be enlisted to overcome this deficiency through proper hygiene and PROPER DIET.

It can well be assigned chief place in the dietary reform suggested by Dr. Murphy.

That great dietitian, Prof. Robert Hutchinson, rates the ideal food as containing 1 part of protein to 4.2 parts of carbohydrates. CORBY BREAD through its careful selection of ingredients, and by means of the special dough-mixers (designed and patented by the Messrs. Corby), which are capable of developing ALL the gluten strength of the flour—qualifies to Prof. Hutchinson's standard—as a perfectly balanced food.

So let CORBY BREAD be the chief diet

—for the growing youngsters and you will bring the ruddy red of vigorous health to their cheeks and the strength of perfect physical development to their muscles.

LIFE INSURANCE

Life insurance protects the family.
Life insurance supports and educates children.
Life insurance makes provision for the inevitable rainy day.
Life insurance pays debts and lifts the mortgage from the home.
Life insurance gives repose to the rich and courage to the poor.
Life insurance builds credit and re-establishes encumbered estates.
Life insurance provides scholarships, endows charities and erects churches.
Life insurance cultivates the habit of thrift and teaches the blessings of co-operation.
Life insurance protects business against the loss of the factors which make it a success.
Life insurance encourages the marriage of the prudent man and woman and lays the home foundation.
Life insurance replaces anxiety and adversity with contentment and serenity, and peace of mind adds length of days.
Life insurance certifies to a man's love of family and deepens the love and respect which wife and children hold for him.
Life insurance is universal in its beneficence. Its service is adapted to all classes and conditions of men. The poor need it. The rich demand it.
Life insurance stands between the home and the enemies of its happiness and security. Among all institutions created by man, no other renders greater human service.

THE ONE ISSUE.

There is one supreme issue in the campaign. It is the ratification of the peace treaty and the assumption by the United States of its proper place in the League of Nations.

The Republicans are trying to dodge the issue. Their campaign book does not print the covenant. Their Presidential candidate misrepresents it, and then tries to placate the Republican friends of the ratification by promising something else that is just as good.

The covenant does not create a super-government of the world, as Mr. Harding charges. Any one who reads it will see that it does not; it only creates an association of nations to prevent one nation from attacking another until the resources of negotiation, litigation or arbitration shall have been exhausted.

William Howard Taft has said in writing that the covenant as a whole, and Article X in particular, are not open to the charges made by the orators of his own party. Ex-President Taft has said, since Senator Harding was nominated, that if he had been a member of the Senate he would have voted for ratification without reservations or conditions. Is it not folly for Mr. Harding to pretend that it sacrifices the independence of the United States?

Four years ago Theodore Roosevelt wrote the book "America and the Great War," in which he insisted upon a "posse comitatus of nations," as he called it, with the same powers and the same purposes as the League, and he said the United States ought to join it and do its part in association with other nations to prevent one nation from attacking another.

Five years ago Henry Cabot Lodge, in an address at Union College, urged a combination of nations, bound together by an agreement to prevent war, as the only means of preserving the peace of the world. There is no more distinguished member of the Republican party, and no more learned lawyer, than Elihu Root; and he supported the League of Nations when it was first brought forward, with only small and incidental amendments. He made no objection to binding the United States by agreement to cooperate with other nations to preserve the peace. He has now just completed the task of framing the International Court authorized by the peace treaty. Mr. Wickersham, Attorney General in the Cabinet of President Taft, has spoken and written earnestly in support of th League covenant unamended.

The peace of the world and the honor of the United States demand that we join our associates in the war in the undertaking to prevent another war. The Republican testimony in behalf of the League, which we have cited above, proves conclusively that the denunciations of Mr. Harding and the rest of the Republicans are insincere and untrue.

Mr. Harding is trying to avoid the subject, and when he speaks upon it he is evasive and indefinite and inconsistent. He prefers to talk about matters on which there is no difference of opinion. We all know what the covenant of the League is. We see that before the Senatorial oligarchy organized to "fight President Wilson," in the words of Mr. Lodge, all the most eminent Republicans supported the project. Absolutely the only excuse for defeating the League is to discredit the President. The national honor and the world's happiness are to be sacrificed by the Republicans for mere partisanship.

The election of Mr. Cox and a Democratic Senate will save the honor of the nation, and the peace of the world, and will harvest the results of a war for which we sent more than 2,000,000 men to France. Can any honest, patriotic and conscientious man or woman doubt that Governor Cox must be elected?

GOOD CLOTHES

The STYLE in Kuppenheimer good Clothes
The comfort of ease in every action and posture, a true fit, the confidence of good taste and graceful lines—all combined in a practical and pleasing manner.
The HOUSE of KUPPENHEIMER

See our window exhibit. You'll note that styles for Fall reflect an all 'round conservatism—nothing extreme. Waistlines and pockets are gradually gliding down—brown is the dominant color idea.

WHETHER you're standing or sitting, there is an air of quality and grace---Good appearance---that is distinctly different in Kuppenheimer good clothes.

That is why they are called an investment in good appearance: wear long--keep on fitting--keep on holding their fine, tailored shapliness.

The styles for Fall are guided by practical requirements; developed as each feature will best serve the man who wears a Kuppenheimer suit. The prices provide extra value.

MOVIES

INGOMAR—MARGUERITE CLARK.

Marguerite Clark in "All of a Sudden Peggy" will be seen tonight at the Ingomar. As the title indicates, it is one of those flashing comedies in which Miss Clark excels. You'll find that she was never so charming as she is in the role of this little Irish girl.

The play, too, will delight you—as it delighted thousands of people on the stage in both London and New York, where it was successfully presented several years ago. It was written by Ernest Denny, and English dramatist of considerable fame.

Jack Mulhall is leading man. The cast is great from beginning to end.

Chapter 7 on "The Third Eye" will also be shown.

RICHMOND—GEO. M. COHAN'S "45 Minutes From Broadway."

There never was a piece that met with so much success during its stage career as George M. Cohan's "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," at the Richmond tonight and tomorrow. First produced in 1904 it enjoyed a tremendously long season with Victor Moore in the title role. In 1912 Mr. Cohan revived it with himself in the title role and more than duplicated its former great triumphs. George M. Cohan delares that it is the best play he ever wrote, which is saying a good deal when we consider the multitude of successes this talented author has given the American public. Charles Ray has found the greatest triumph of his career in his screen version of this truly great play.

IDLE HOUR.

On a lonely island in the South Pacific a baby Robinson Crusoe lived his strange life for twenty-one years. When Katherine Brenton, escaped from the consequences of an experiment in radicalism which had taken her to sea aboard of young Langford's yacht, reached the island in a motor boat, John Charnock had forgotten all human speech, with the exception of a few lines of a simple prayer taught him by his mother.

The strange story is told in "The Island of Regeneration," by the Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady, visualized by Vitagraph. It will be shown at the Idle Hour theatre Saturday.

CAR RUNS AWAY; ONE KILLED

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 17.—One man was killed and 20 persons injured, three perhaps fatally, here today when a runaway street car, heavily loaded with passengers, crashed into a tree after running down hill for four blocks.

The dead man is J. C. Berger, of Springville, N. Y.

LOOKED TOO CHESTY

Atlantic City Porter Arrested Charged With Stealing Silk Shirts.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept 17.—The extraordinary chest measure of Harry Tillman, of 1921 Garfield avenue, employed as a porter in the clothing store of Halpern Brothers, led to his arrest this morning on a charge of stealing clothing and silk shirts.

The proprietors had on several occasions noticed the tremendous chest of their porter, but thought nothing of it until their stock began to disappear. This morning they called him into the office saying that they wished to measure him for a new uniform. When the tape was put around his chest the measure was abnormal. They thumped him and found that he was considerably padded. A dozen silk shirts of a most expensive pattern had been wound about his body.

SUGAR DROPS IN N. Y.

BOMB CAUSED WALL STREET BLAST

vinced Federal, city and private detectives that the disaster was premeditated.

"It was a bomb beyond a doubt," said William J. Burns, head of the detective agency which bears his name.

It was found that the broken sash weights used as missiles were such as are used in dwelling houses and in no building in the vicinity of the explosion. The fractured faces on the fragments were worn and rusted, it was said, as though the iron of which they were composed had been broken long ago.

No hole in the pavement marked the spot where the wagon had last been seen and this was taken to show that some such explosive as TNT was used, rather than dynamite, which exerts its force downward. As to statements that the wagon bore the name of the firm manufacturing explosive officials of that company said that none of their wagons had been below Sixteenth street yesterday. A report that three men were seen running down Wall street toward the East river just before the explosion is being investigated.

Mr. Burns said he thought the wagon contained a mine of explosives, to be detonated by a device, long in use by dynamiters consisting of a battery and an alarm clock.

Dye It Right! "Diamond Dyes"

Don't Risk Material in Poor Dyes that Fade or Run

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White which can be had at any drug store, shake well and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach for few cents.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use lemon juice to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion. Lemons have always been used as a freckle, sunburn and tan remover. Make this up and try it.

DODSON KILLING USE OF CALOMEL

Says Drug is Mercury and Acts Like Dynamite on Your Liver

Dodson is making a hard fight against calomel in the South. Every druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason, Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor an dambition.

WARNING SENT BY BOMBERS

French High Commission Got Note Telling Them to Seek Safe Place.

New York, Sept. 17.—Evidence that the bomb explosion which shook Wall street today was not unpremediated was received in the announcement by the police that warning of the concussion was received 24 hours before it occurred, by the French high commission.

A letter addressed to Lieut. Arnaud, who is attached to the staff of Minister Plenipotentiary Maurice Casenava warned the minister to be out of his office between 2 and 4 o'clock daylight time. The writer is said to have hinted vaguely at plans for revenge and of persons with grievances who were about to satisfy them.

William J. Burns and others of the Burns detective bureau expressed no surprise at this information. Burns said the outrage had undoubtedly been deliberately planned and that the Burns bureau had known vaguely of it before hand and had sent out warnings to its clients.

The warning to the French commissioner was in a small white envelope and was dropped through the slot of the office at 65 Broadway yesterday morning. The message was destroyed, but following the explosion the pieces were rescued from the waste paper basket and turned over to the police.

STATE COMMISSION IS SUSTAINED BY COURT

Coincident with a decision of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia, establishing jurisdiction of the State Corporation Commission in making rates, the commission was handling a case involving the same principle yesterday. The commission acted as it had acted previously, when the case was before the Supreme Court.

The decision of the supreme tribunal established the right of the commission to fix telephone rates in the city of Richmond in spite of the fact that the city had a contract with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company. The commission had fixed rates higher than those carried in a contract with the city and the city appealed to the Supreme Court, whose ruling disregards the contract.

The case decided yesterday morning by the commission was the fixing of rates to be charged by the Appalachian Power Company. Rates had been set some time ago, but the Cinchfield Coal and Coke Company, having a contract with the power company refused to pay the new rate. The commission held that the coal company was not protected by its contract, but relieved the coal concern of payment of the difference in rates prior to October 20, when the commission rate will apply to this company.

Fortunately few people are mind readers.

A woman may listen to her husband's advice, but she does as she pleases anyhow.
